Princeton beat Cornell at Nassau's 'varsity field yesterday by the unexpectedly low score of 6 to 0 in two twenty-minute halves. It was an interesting encounter, and showed up the strong and weak points of both elevens. Yale's game with the Carlisle Indians was a rather easy triumph for the Blues, who scored 18 points against 5 for the red men. Harvard sprung something of a surprise by walloping the strong Chicago A. A. eleven by 30 to 0. Chicago was expected tomake things lively for the Cambridge team. The University of Pennsylvania had no diffi-culty in disposing of Lafayette, the figures being 32 to 0. The games in detail follow: PRINCETON, 6; CORNELL, O.

PRINCETON, Oct. 22.-In two halves of twenty minutes each the Princeton Tigers shut out the Cornell 'varsity eleven here this after-noon, but only made one touchdown them-selves, the final score being 6 to 0. To Princeton men the outcome was rather disapas high as twenty points for Old Nassau. To Corneil men the game was a source of encouragement, even though victory did not come to them, for the Ithacans did nobly under adverse circumstances. The Princeton kickers, with one or two exceptions, outwelghed the Cornell men so perceptibly that when the elevens first came on the field the remark went before playing time. Tickets placed on sale at a drug store centrally located were withdrawn before the special trains got in, which necessitated a wild scramble at the gates to get the pasteboard. Then, to add to the trouble, the doors were kept closed and rully 3,000 persons were soon packed in a solid jam in the middle of the street, which was soggy with mud. The holders of side line tickets were also crowded by outsiders, who got over the ropes in spite of the protests of a few special policemen and proceeded to encroach upon the playing surface in the second half. The crowd was goodnatured, however, and quickly broke into cheering and songs, which were kept up with untiring energy.

"If beef counts for anything Cornell will be buried."

Capt. Hillebrand led his bulky Tigers out from the clubhouse and onto the gridinon at exactly 3:05 o'clock, the crowd cheering and singing in harmony.

Capt. Hillebrand led his bulky Tigers out from the clubhouse and onto the gridfron at exactly 3:05 o'clock, the crowd cheering and singing in harmony.

"It's the heaviest team Princeton has had in years," said Foster Sanford, the Yale coach, as the Tigers began to fall on the ball. There were two dozen men in orange and black uniforms, and they knomed up in the most impressive way. Then a cheer from the Cornell shouters, who were ably seconded by a delegation from the University of Pennsylvania, an nounced the approach of the Ithacans. Capt. Whiting, unrecognizable because of a leather helmet, nose guard and big leather pads on his shoulders, led his men galloping in single file out to the scene of bruises and glory. When the crowd had cheered the visitors cordially the sharp-eyed ones noticed the discrepancy in weight and wondered what would be the fate of the men from upper New York State.

Preliminaries were soon over, and the captains, after a consultation with the officials, Referce Overfield, Pennsylvania's centre rush, and Umpire Dashiell of the Rules Committee tossed for choice of goals. Hillebrand called the turn and the Tigers took the northern goal. Cornell having the ball, It was 3:16 o'clock when the whistles were blown by the officials and the battle began.

Cross was selected to kick off for Cornell and he sent a low, twiating drive to Hillebrand, who was waiting for it like a panther. Back came the Princeton captain behind good interference for a hard, smashing run of fleten yards, which was cut short by a great tackle on the part of Reed. The latter was driven to the sod under a pile of desperate men, and when everybody got up but Cornell's crack guard it was seen that he had been temporarily knocked out. But he resumed playing when the true down the field. This was on Cornell's thirty-flev-yard line, and Agres promptly punted on the first down, Whiting caught the ball, but was thrown hard by H. Lathrope, who beat out Palmer by a yard in the race down the field. This was on Cornell's thirty-fle he was put on the turf. This was great work on the part of Cornell, but Young's fumble was fatal, and Princeton got the ball just at the time when the Cornell contingent was in a happy mood. Little Relier dashed around Duvail's end for twenty yards, Whiting's tackle being a magnificent piece of work. But the run went for naught, as the Tigers were holding in the line and Cornell received the ball. The "end-snay-back" play was tried a third time here, and Whiting, getting the eval on, a long double pass, sprinted across the field. He saw no chance to turn in however, and was bowled over by Palmer.

Whiting punted as a last resort, and Rosen-garten was tackled hard by Alexander on great that we have been up by beef and musele, Heiter, Arms and Black worked the ball up to Cornell's forty-five yard line, where the Ithacans got it for holding. The Cornell backs could do, nothing in the way of line bucking, so Whiting put in the inevitable punt which sent the ball outside at the Tigers' forty-yard line. Black. Agres and Releter began another attack, which proved the best of the day. They were sent against the tackles, guards and centre without delay, and so persistently that the Ithacans, fighting for every inch of the ground, were slowly beaten back. Agres was temporarily knocked out by a kick on the head, but when a pall of waster had been poured on his football locks he was like a new man.

When the Ithacans had been forced back to their 30-yard line they received the ball for holding, and Whiting booted it out of danger in fine style. Starbuck was hurt and will was substituted, the play going on with less than half a minute's stop. The Tigers, after Black had been downed on his 50-yard line, resumed their rashing textices. Cornell's line was slowly weakening, but the men had plenty of sand, and, though fighting against big odds, they never flinched. Relter and Ayres' after short plunges that landed the ball in the middle mark, were followed by Black, who came near making the most sensational run of the day. The b

Seneca were pushed through Chamberlin for small gains on "guards back" formations, but the Tale line held and took the ball on downs at Yale's thirty-yard line. Meliride kicked to Carlisle's thirty-yard line. And again recovered the ball at Carlisle's forty-yard line on downs. It began to look like another touchdown for the Blue, and again recovered the ball at their twenty-yard line and got the pigskin on downs for the second time during the same.

Miller kicked to Yale's thirty-yard line, and Carlisle kept up her brilliant defensive work by holding Yale for the third time. Here the Carlisle enthusiasm became rampant, and the small squad of coaches and followers of the eleven sent up cheering warwhoops at the struggling braves on the gridiron. Young Hudson dropped back beaind the line for his third try for goal. Marshall, Coy, and Hubbell were almost on him before his toe touched the ball. They leaped into the air to block his kick, but the oval glided just above their heads, fouled upon the goal bar and crossed it, while the Indians yelled gleefully. Chamberlin kicked off. Hudson caught and passed to Miller, who ran fifteen yards before downed. Yale received the ball at Carlisle's twenty-yard line, when the half closed.

Bemis Pierce kicked off in the second half and McBride returned the punt to Carlisle's forty-yard line. Short rushes by Metoxen and Senech brought the ball to Yale's fifty-yard line, when Yale got it for holding. Yale here began her freestible attack on Bemis Pierce and swept him aside at every dash, Allen. Marvin, and Benjamin got their ground at every scrimmage till the ball was at Carlisle's five-yard line. Sullivan caught cleanly, eluded both the Carlisle ends and ran close to the side line past three Carlisle rushers for the sland accase the line. Chamberlin and Coy dropped back behind the line and Coy was shoved through Pierce for a touchdown. and came out on top. The team, however, indulged in fumbling to an astonishing extest. In. one instance, in particular, Pennsylvarian had the ball within three yards of Lafayette's line, when a fumble was in order between Outland, when an Gardiner, and Lafayette got the ball. After an exchange of kicks Pennsylvania got the ball on Lafayette shirty-five-yard line and tried for a place kick for goal, but missed, shortly after this, however, Hare was shoved across the line for a touchdown. The most sentences in the line for a touchdown. The most sentences the line for a touchdown. The most sentences the line for a touchdown, the centre of the field ran across Lafayette's line, dodging capitally. It was said that he ran out of bounds, however, and was brought back to the forty-yard line. Soon after this Pennsylvania lost the ball near the Lafayette line and Bray attempted to punt out, but Reusenberg blocked it. Bray fell on the ball behind his own goal, scoring a safety. Harrison made another scensational run before the game closed, carrying the ball thirty yards for a touchdown. Lafayette, according to Coach Parke Davis, was in far better shape and played better football than at any time this season. They were very strong, defensively, but could gain nothing either through the Pennsylvania centre or around the ends. Pennsylvania centre or around the ends. Pennsylvania contre or around the ends. Pennsylvania off in the first half, but, bur the fumbling, the team played really capital football in the second half. Chaimers was the Lafayette's star, and he put up the real article. Rutter and Bachman also played finely, while Bray by his punting helped finely, while Bray by his punting leiped finely.

WESLEYAN, 22; WILLIAMS, O. WELLIAMS, Oct. 22: WILLIAMS, O. WILLIAMS, O. WILLIAMS, Oct. 22.—Wesleyan defeated Williams to-day by the score of 22 to O. The Williams line was unable to stop the rushes of the Wesleyan backs, who were greatly alded by the big holes made for them by their line men. Williams was in possession of the ball only a few times during the game and was unable to make any material gains. In the first half, after several exchanges of punts, Wesley, 1997.

only a few times during the game and was unable to make any material gains. In the first half, after several exchanges of punts, Wesleyan secured the ball in the middle of the field, and steady gains by Raymond and Ingils soon carried it over for a touchdown. Shortly after the next kickoff Lane made a pretty fifty-yard run for a touchdown. In the second half Wesleyan secred twice. After the kick-off the visitors took the ball on their forty-yard line and rushed it steadily down the field, Townsend being used as a ground gainer to good advantage. The second touchdown in this half was a repetition of the first. The offensive work of Raymond and Townsend was especially noteworthy. Butter, C. WEST POINT, Oct. 22.—The West Point-Lehigh football game here this afternoon was a tame affair and failed to arouse any enthusiasm on the side lines. ENICKERBOCKER A. C., 27; RIVERSIDE A. C., C.

The Knickerbocker A. C. showed up in good form at Berkeley Oval yesterday afternoon and defeated the Riverside A. C. of Newark by a score of 27 to 0. The latter, although outweighted, put up a plucky fight, and had their interference been better would have scored. The line held the terrific rushes of Schasfer, Koehler and Miller well, and the Knickerbocker A. C. had to do most of the ground gaining around Riverside's ends, which were very weak. The Knickerbocker A. C. showed a marked improvement in their work over last Saturday. Their interference was well formed, while the line held like a stone wall. The work of the backs was excellent, especially that of Waters, who made runs of fifteen, twenty and thirty-live yards. Beers, the little quarter back, played a star game.

UNION, 22; RENSSELAER, O.

Schenectady, Oct. 22.—Union won her fifth consecutive victory in football here to-day by defeating Rensselser Polytechnic Institute by the score of 22 to 0. The campus was in poor condition ewing to the recent heavy rains, but all the other conditions were favorable. Union played a strong defensive as well as offensive game, and the best work was done by Guinac, Keogh, Fenton and Mallery, while for R. P. I., Baxter and Southard put up the strongest game.
